

Jefferson Regional Health Alliance

Overview

Mission: JRHA is a cross-sector collaborative learning community of regional leaders working together to improve the health and health care resources of Southern Oregonians

Vision:

- The organizations and individuals responsible for the health of the community are interconnected, promoting health and health care transformation collaboratively
- Current systems are transformed, reducing economic, cultural and system barriers to health and health care access while reducing the costs of health care services
- Relationships and resources are leveraged through collaboration to implement best practices and ensure a sustainable health care system

Strategies:

- Foster communication, collaboration and interconnectedness between organizations and individuals
  - Provide a neutral space for shared learning and dialogue
  - Facilitate relationships that build trust and cooperation
  - Convene and help organize the health and health care community
- Hold a collective vision of community health
  - Identify health challenges we can best tackle collectively; Focus on service gaps and region-wide problems
  - Engage issues that impact health, including the social determinants of health, from a broad community perspective
- Cause things to happen, rather than make things happen
  - Be a catalyst for change
  - Be an incubator; Help find and leverage resources to support projects and initiatives that respond to community needs
  - Employ the power of a collective community voice for advocacy

Areas of Focus:

- Regional Community Health Assessment and Community Health Improvement Plan
- Social Determinants of Health and Trauma-Informed Care
- Behavioral Health Integration
- Housing and Homelessness Impacts on Health
- Chronic Pain Management and The Opioid Epidemic

Established in 2005, Jefferson Regional Health Alliance incorporated as a 501c3 in 2008
